A. Introduction

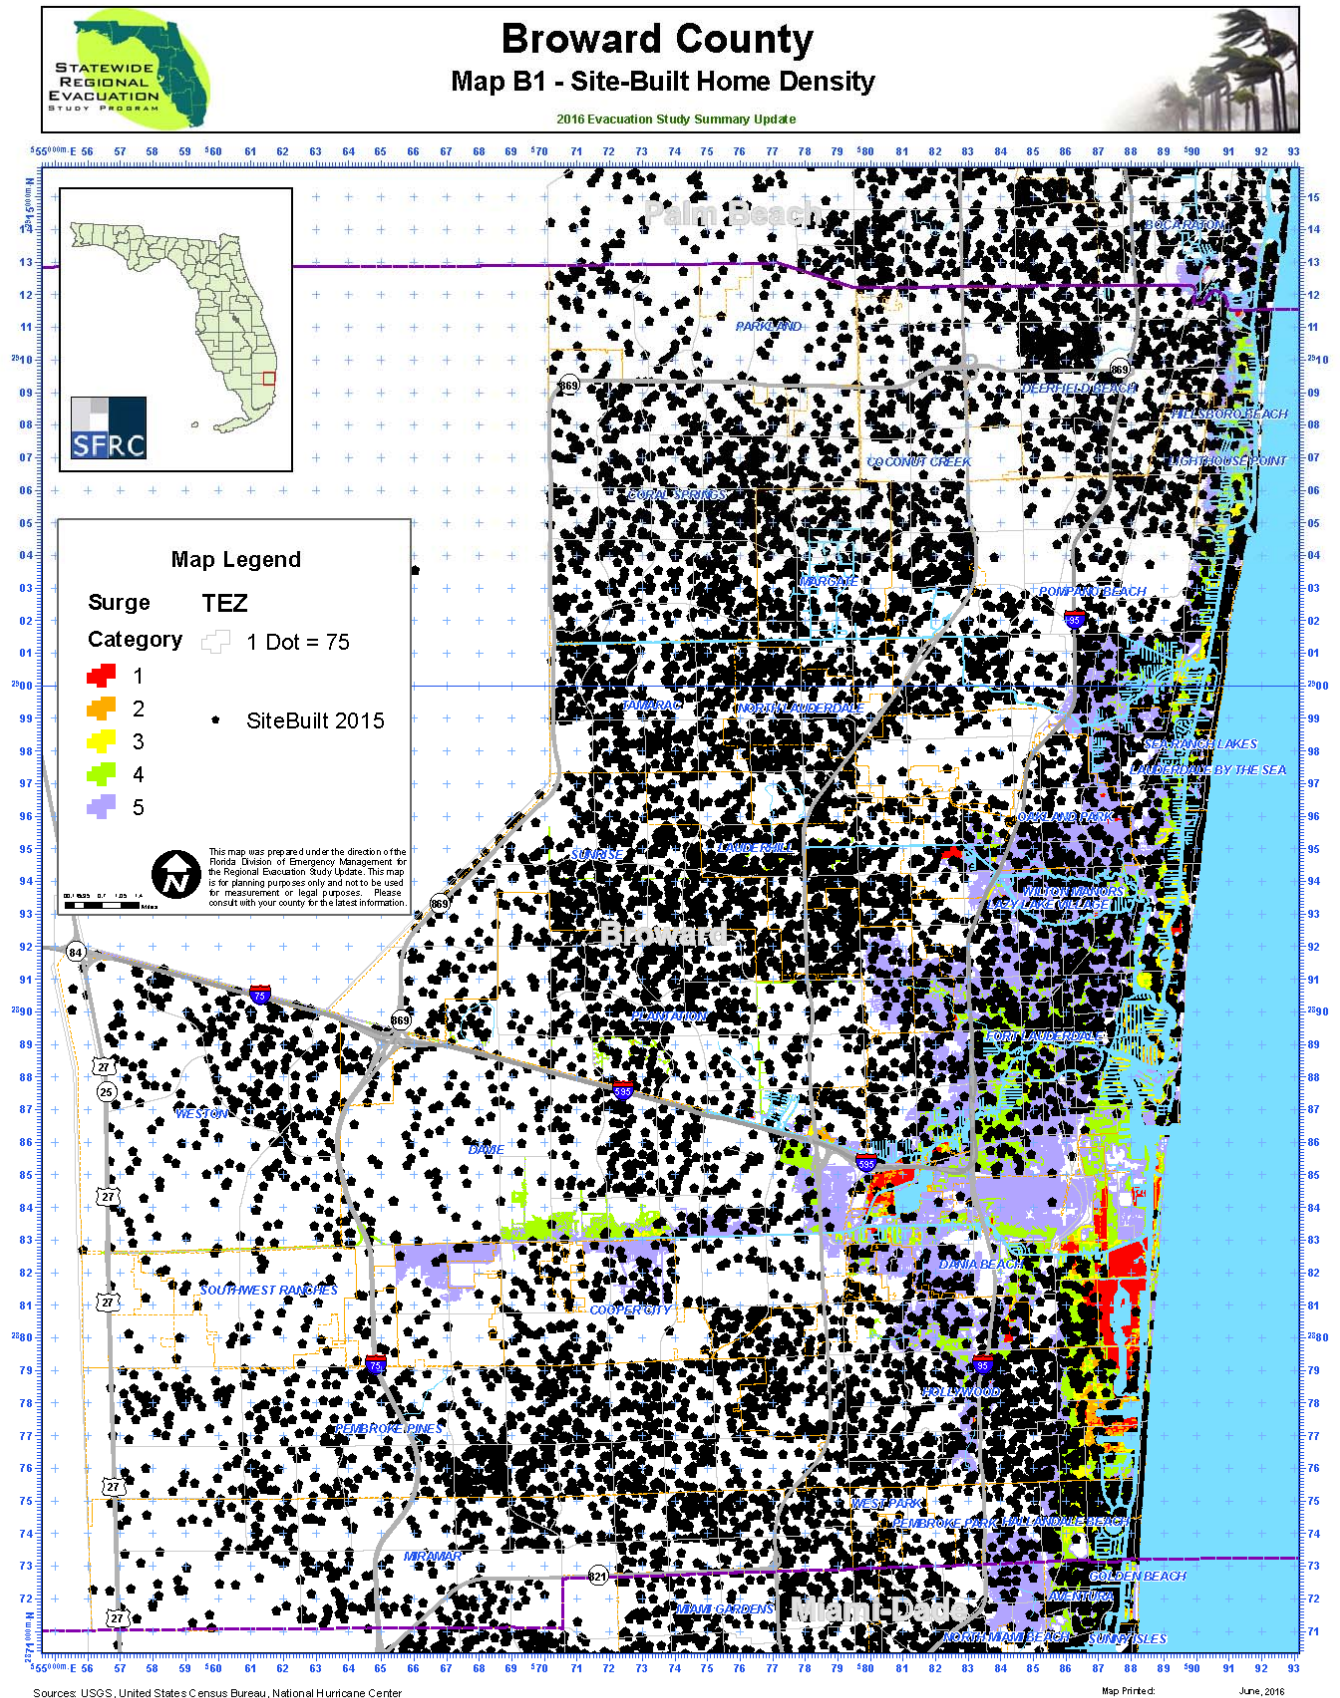

This appendix provides a County Demographic Profile, Vulnerability Profile and a more detailed vulnerability analysis of critical facilities and corresponding maps.

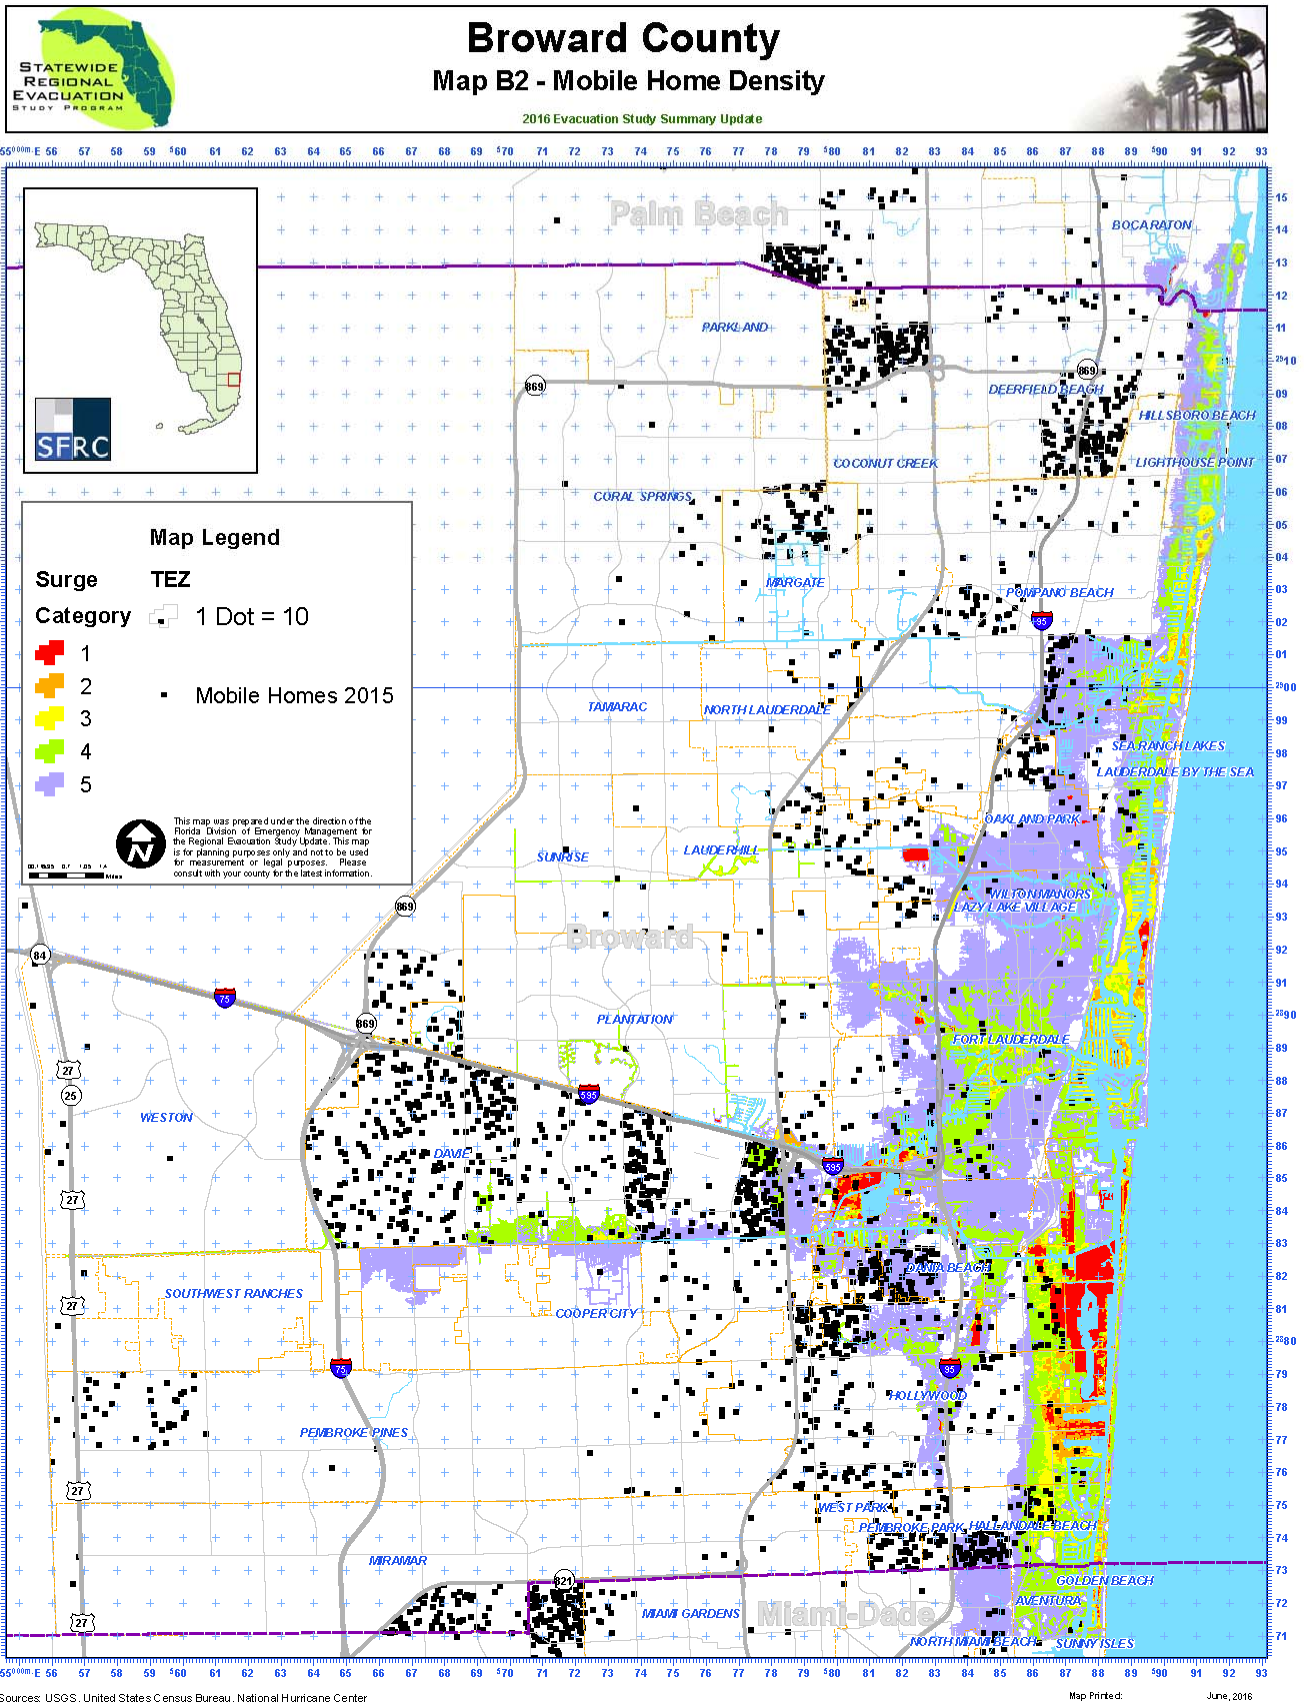

B. Small Area Data

Small Area Data is used with the Regional Evacuation Transportation Model. The data is gathered for three time periods – 2010, 2015 and 2020. This data is centered on housing units and provides for the number of site-built and mobile homes in each County. The maps below depict the density of both site built homes and mobile homes in Broward County.

Table B1. Broward County Small Area Data

	2010	2015	2020
Total Dwelling Unit Site-Built Homes	788,949	792,483	805,829
Occupied Site-Built Homes	667,690	691,681	714,784
Population in Site-Built Homes	1,598,591	1,646,338	1,693,172
Vehicles in Site-Built Homes	1,119,314	1,153,101	1,186,017
Total Dwelling Unit Mobile Homes	21,415	21,655	22,024
Occupied Mobile Homes	18,343	19,094	19,722
Population in Mobile Homes	36,726	39,435	41,959
Vehicles in Mobile Homes	23,352	24,963	26,410
Hotel-Motel Units	32,226	32,226	32,226
Population in Hotel-Motel Units	41,133	41,133	41,133
Vehicles in Hotel-Motel Units	28,780	28,780	28,780

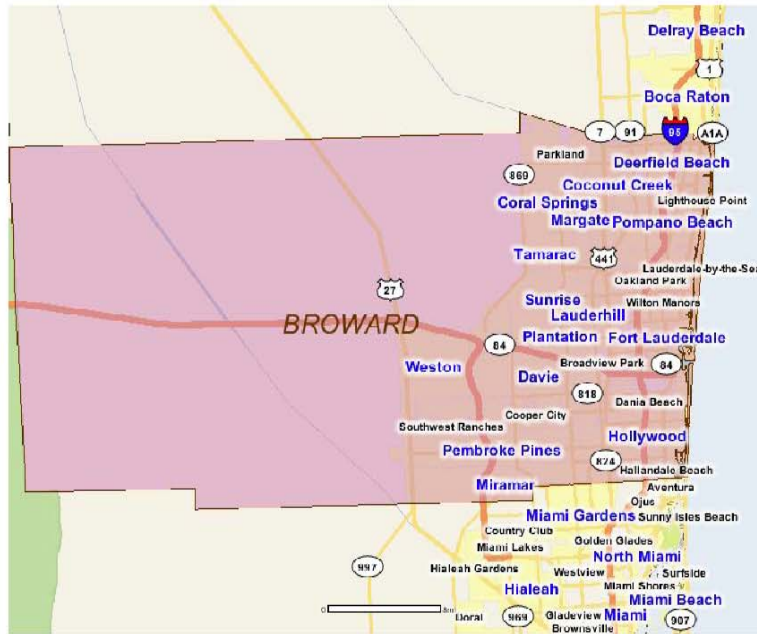

C. Demographic Trends

This section of the report, and the data contained herein, is provided to capture a profile of the county including population trends not previously discussed in the regional demographics overview. The County Profiles are compiled by Florida Department of Transportation and can be found online at <https://etdmpub.flh-dot.org/est/>.

APPENDIX A – BROWARD COUNTY

E. Hazard Maps

The Regional Evacuation Study includes not only an analysis of Storm Surge, but FEMA-defined Flood Zones as well as the Wildfire Risk in each County.

Storm Surge

Storm surge is the abnormal rise in water level caused by the wind and pressure forces of a hurricane or tropical storm. Storm surge produces most of the flood damage and drowning associated with storms that make landfall or that closely approach the coastline. Of the hurricane hazards, storm surge is considered the most dangerous, as nine out of ten hurricane-related deaths are caused by drowning. The County storm tide surge zones and evacuation zones can be found in Maps E1 and E2 below.

Freshwater Flooding and the Inundation of Evacuation Routes

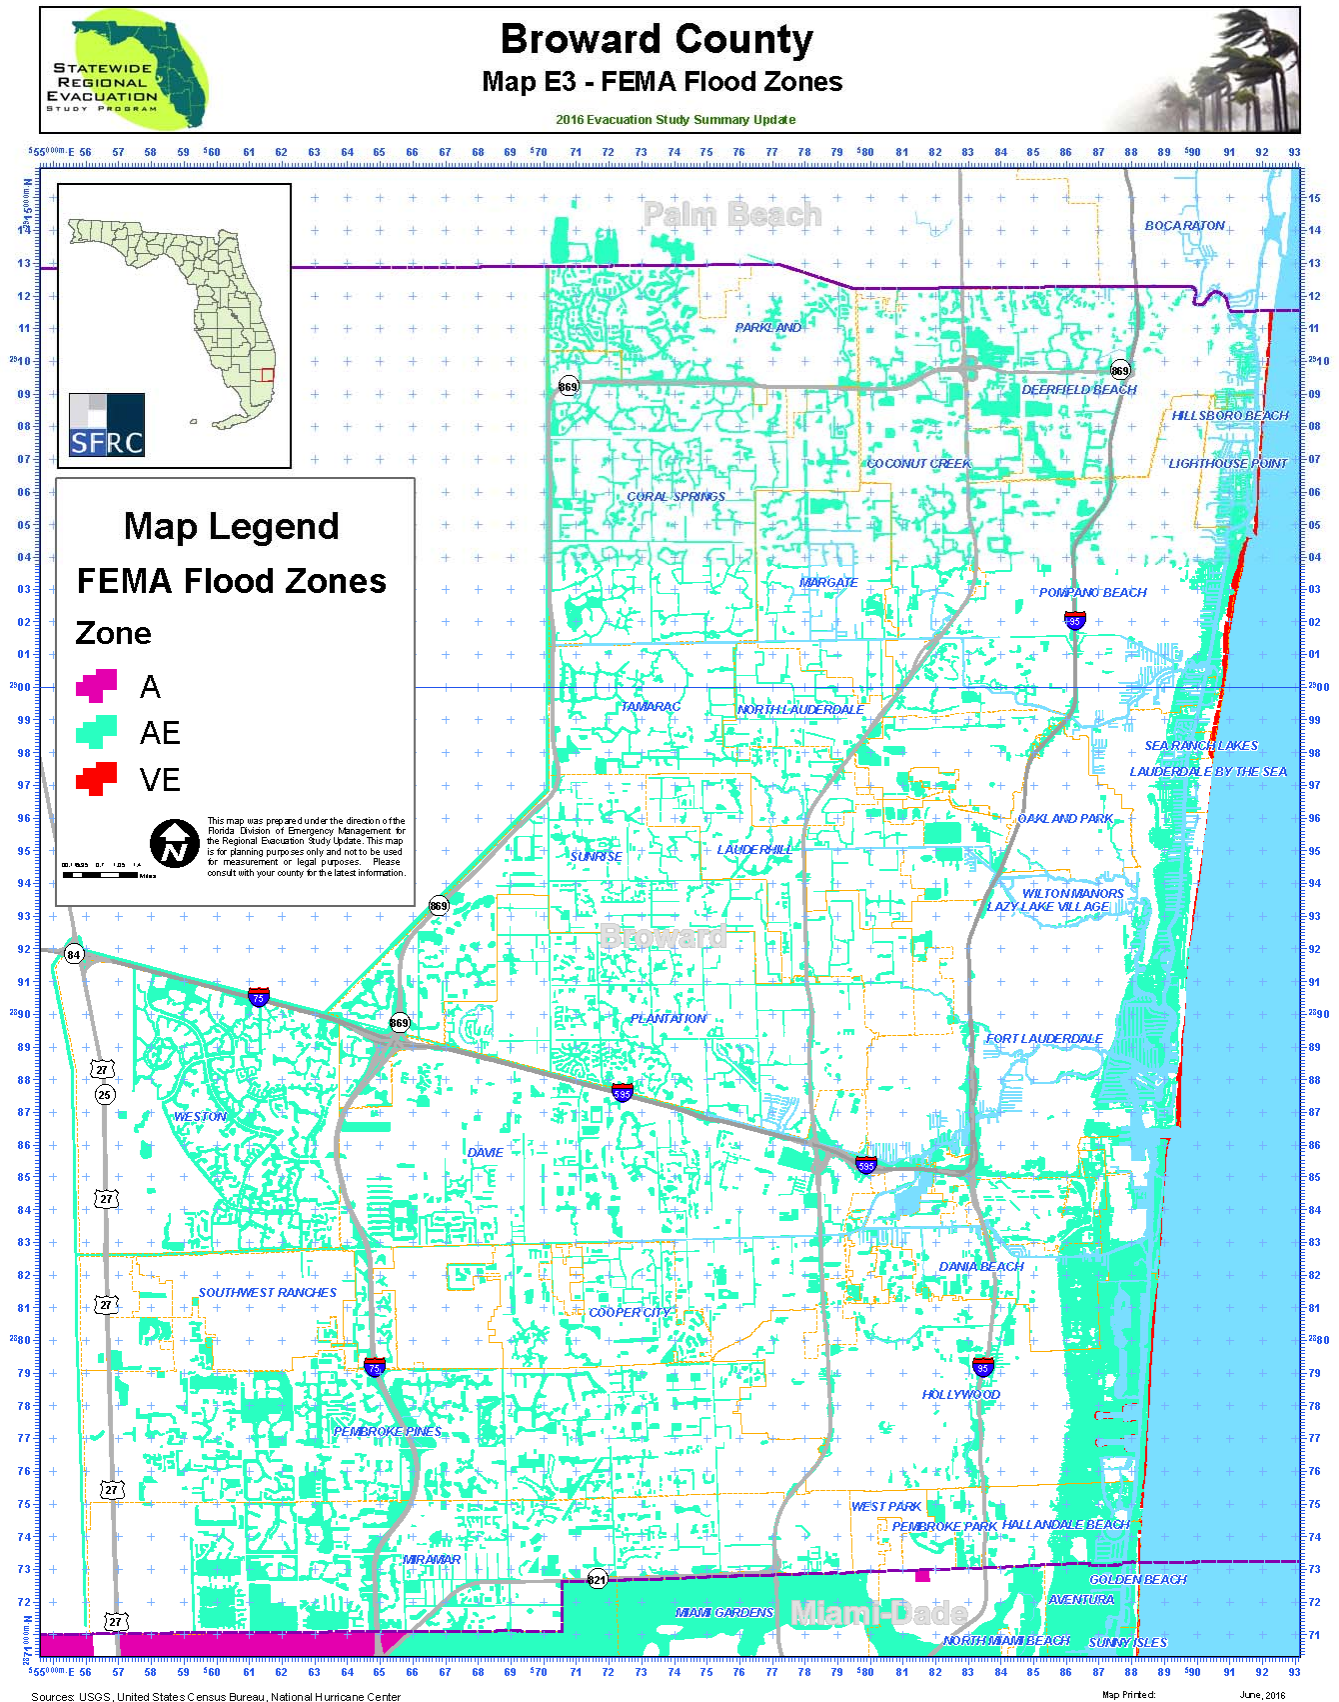

Inland Riverine and freshwater flooding often becomes a significant factor as a result of tropical storms and hurricanes. Unlike storm surge, the rainfall associated with, and in advance of, a hurricane does not necessitate the emergency evacuation of residents during the passage of a hurricane. Following a storm, however, the coastal flooding and rainfall – particularly from slow moving storms – necessitates an evacuation of flooded inland resident's days after, as swollen rivers and streams breach their banks or levees.

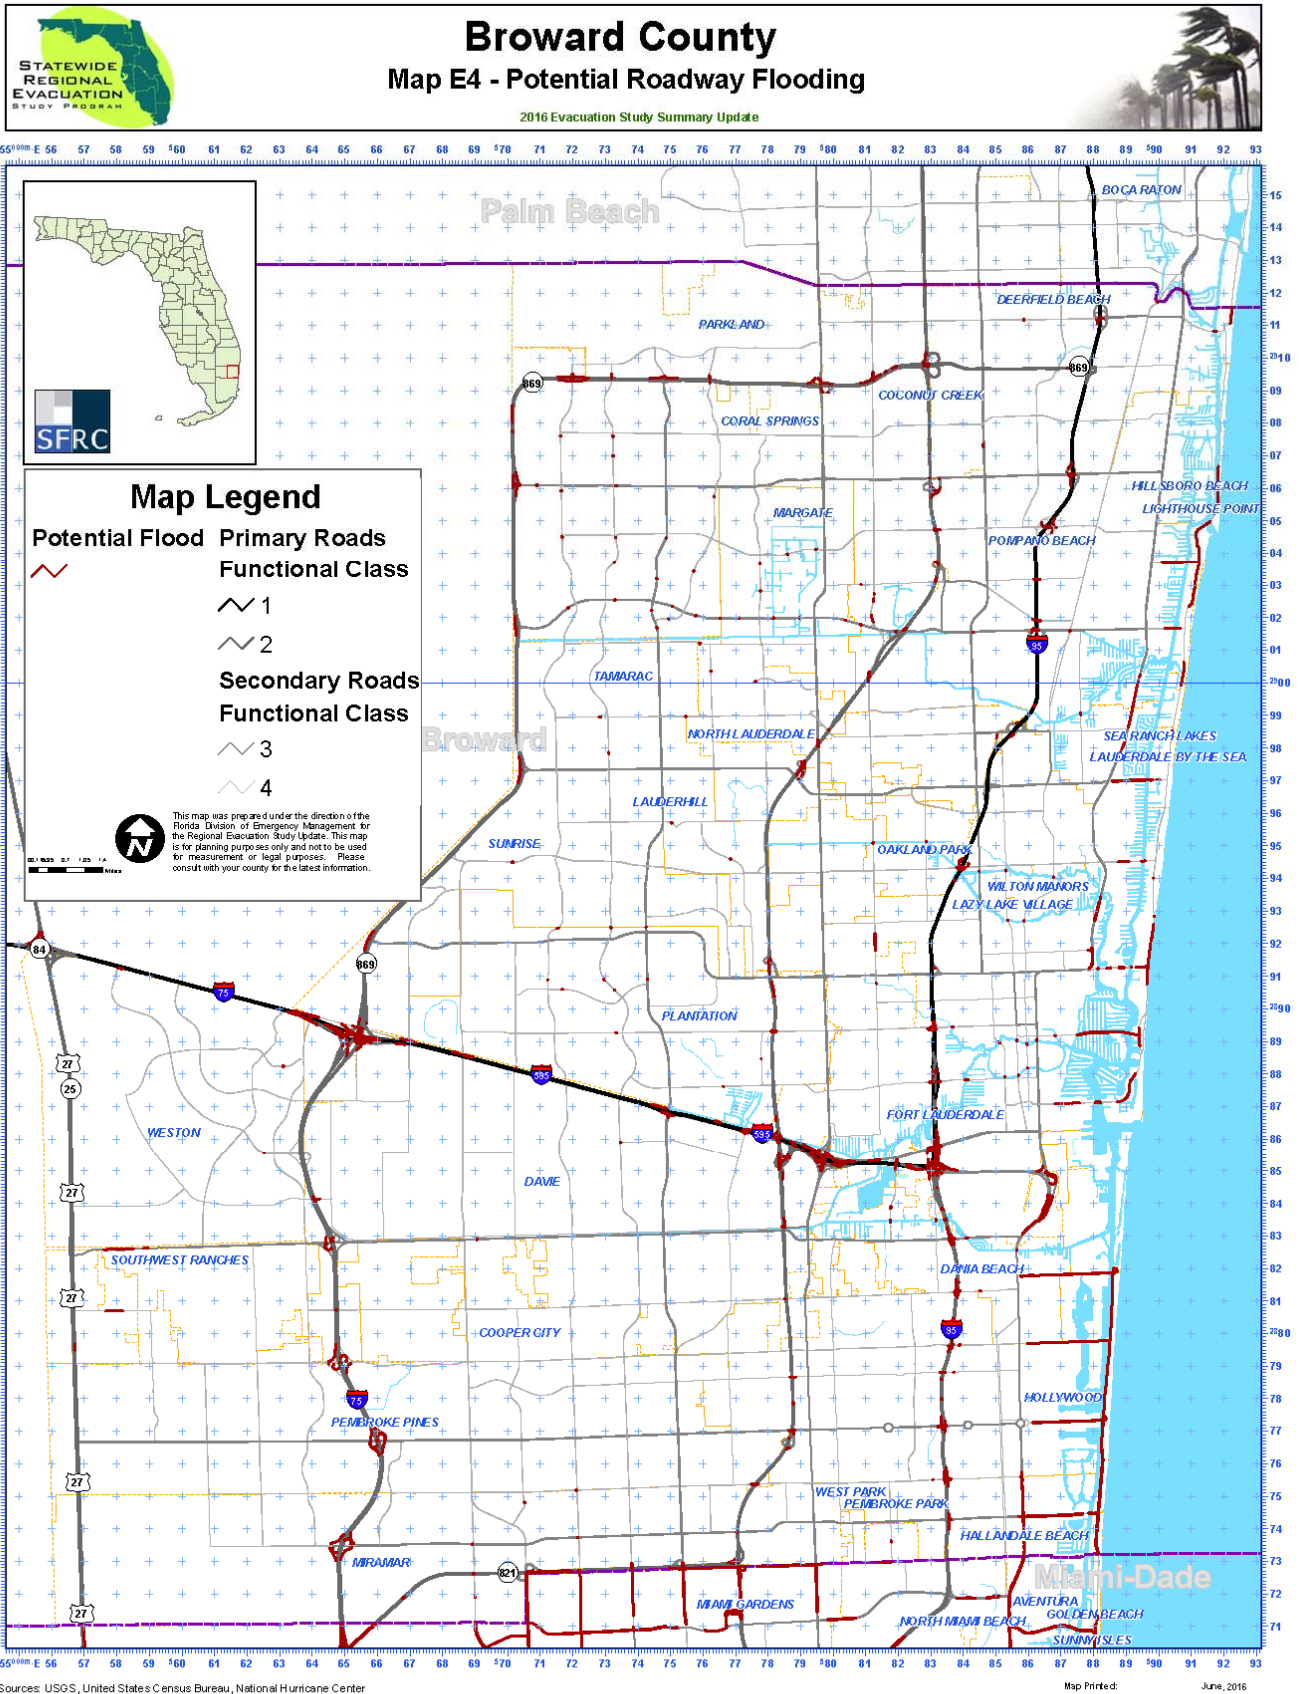

Regarding hurricane evacuation, however, rainfall may cause the early inundation of roadways sought as evacuation routes by vehicles attempting to escape from areas vulnerable to the approaching storm surge. In addition, given Florida climatology and the normal summer weather, flooding may occur as a disassociated event prior to the hurricane, flooding evacuation routes, and saturating the ground. FEMA defined Flood Zones are presented in Map E3 below.

Rainwater inundation of evacuation routes must be addressed in an evacuation plan. The planning strategy to address this problem is to plan for the passage of all vehicles over such roadways before substantial rainfall from the hurricane was expected to arrive. Hourly records of rainfall rates and accumulation for past hurricanes indicate that rates high enough to surpass drainage capabilities normally parallel in time the arrival of sustained tropical storm-force winds. Utilizing this as an assumption of the timing of freshwater roadway inundation, the pre-landfall hazards time quantification for sustained tropical storm-force winds will also compensate for early rainfall inundation of evacuation routes.

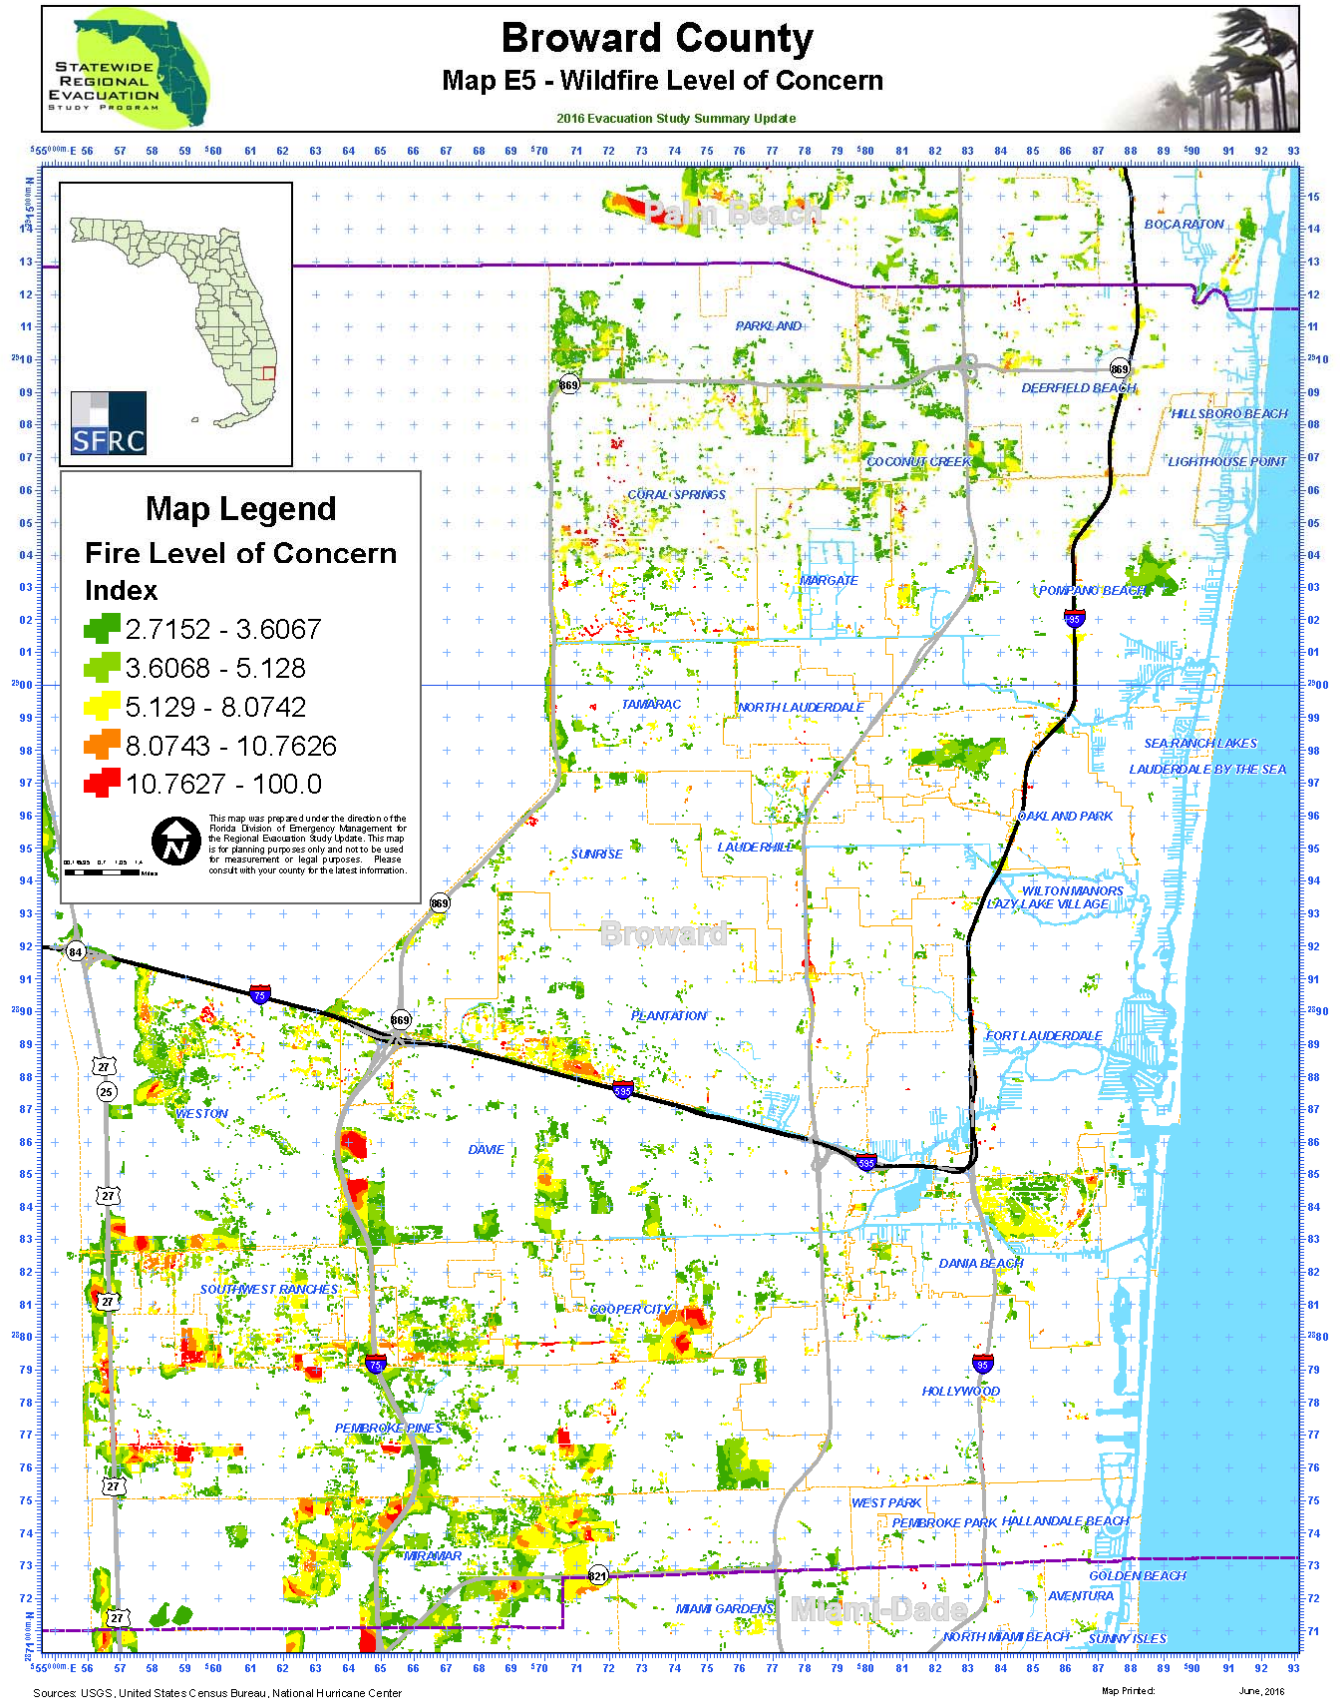

Those roadways known historically to be vulnerable from freshwater flooding have been identified by the county and municipal emergency management/law enforcement/ emergency response personnel. These routes, including those which were inundated or forced to close during recent flooding events or are within a 100-Year Flood Plain as identified by FEMA, are presented in Map E4 below.

Wildfire

In the last decade, there have been on average 3,361 wildfires a year throughout the State of Florida (Florida Forest Service, 2011). Although fire is a naturally occurring element in Florida ecosystems, the continued development of housing and infrastructure within wildland areas and forests presents a wildfire hazard that will continue to escalate as residential development continues to encroach on natural areas.

F. Critical Facilities Analysis

Since the release of the original Regional Evacuation Study Program as part of the statewide update in 2010, the Florida Division of Emergency Management (FDEM) has maintained a critical facilities database for the entire State. FDEM coordinates the update and maintenance of this data.

The Critical Facility Inventory (Data base) includes a comprehensive list of critical facilities identified by the State and County Emergency Management Agencies. This inventory is not published as part of the report. However, selected facilities that may require evacuation or mitigation are identified in Map F1 and Tables 1 and 2. The tables indicate vulnerability from storm surge (based on the SLOSH model), location in an Evacuation Zone, freshwater flooding (based on the FEMA Flood Maps) and wildfire (Wildfire Interface/Levels of Concern).
