

FREE OSHA 10-hour General Industry Training

Nova Southeastern University's Institute for Disaster and Emergency Preparedness is offering
FREE OSHA 10-hour General Industry Training
In-Person
English and Spanish sessions

This training program is intended to provide entry-level safety and health hazard information appropriate for workers in the fields of Healthcare, Factory Operations, Warehousing, Manufacturing, Storage and more

- Provides for employees, supervisors and managers, the skills to recognize, avoid, control, abate and prevent injuries and accidents in the workplace environment.
- Informs workers about their rights and their employer's responsibilities and explain how to file a complaint with OSHA.
- Educates workers on a variety of safety topics which workers may encounter on a job site.

Topics

- Slip, Trip and Fall Hazard Protection
- Fixed and Portable Ladder Safety
- Fire Prevention, Protection & Emergency Egress Safety
- Dangers of Electrical Hazards
- PPE (Personal Protective Equipment)
- Causes and Prevention of MSD and RMD Injuries
- Workers' Rights to Know
- Difference Between Chronic and Acute Health Ailments
- Hazards of Spray Finishing, Dipping/Coating, Combustible Liquids and Compressed Gases
- Dangers of Unguarded Equipment

To RSVP for a class, Please Click HERE

Or using a smart device scan the BARCODE

For questions, please email SEAMIST@nova.edu

Funding for this training has been provided by The National Institute of Environmental Health Science (NIEHS) of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) under award number U45ES019350.