

By 2034

Americans 65-plus will outnumber those 18 and under
for the first time

2021 AARP Home and Community Preferences Survey – Access to Amenities

AARP Network of Age-Friendly States and Communities

Livable, age-friendly communities provide options that enable you to meet your needs regardless of your age, income, background, or other factors. They are for all people of all ages.

aarp.org/agefriendly

More than 900 communities have committed to create a more age-friendly future – plus 10 states and 1 US territory. Nearly 100 million people.

© Stadia Maps © Stamen Design © OpenMapTiles © OpenStreetMap contributors

AARP Walk Audits

AARP volunteers have engaged across the state in walk audits to identify any potential improvements to sidewalks or intersections to make them safer for all ages.

City of Deerfield Beach and Broward MPO

A temporary “pop-up” of intersection improvements, informational signage, traffic calming features and highly-visible decorative crosswalks were installed to increase the mobility, accessibility & safety of a roadway in a predominantly residential area.

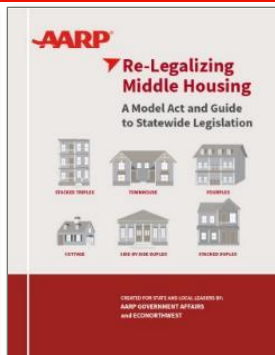

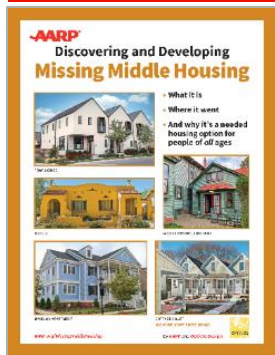

City of Tallahassee and Knight Creative Communities

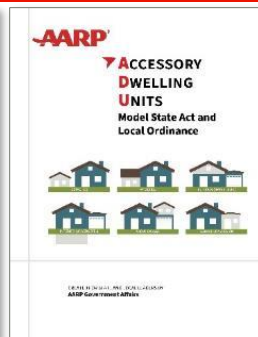

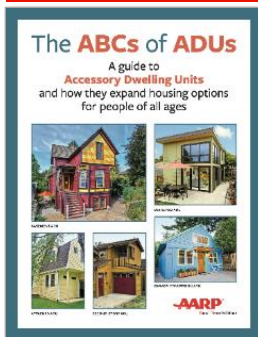

Two crosswalks were painted near an elementary school and a senior living community. Local artists were paired with students who worked together to make crosswalks more visually appealing.

Age-Friendly Housing Policies and Resources

Missing Middle Housing

Accessory Dwelling Units

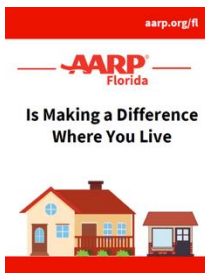

Creating an age-friendly home

Visit the full livable resources library and download a digital version or order a printed copy.

aarp.org/livable

CONNECT WITH US!

Laura Streed

Sr. Associate State Director

AARP Florida

lstreed@aarp.org

www.aarp.org/FL

Livable Communities Landing Page:

aarp.org/livable

Livable Communities Newsletter:

aarp.org/livable-newsletter

Livable Communities Map:

livablemap.aarp.org

Livability Index:

aarp.org/livabilityindex

20+ Free Publications:

aarp.org/livablelibrary

